2020-10-13 04:27:04	Western Cape		No I do not	Pension funds are their to provide people with a living in their retirement. Such savings should never be touched. People should not be forced to invest in derelict state institutions either caused by a corrupt state.	Graham

2020-10-10 20:11:52	Western Cape		No I do not	Pension funds are there to use when one retires and doesn't have an income. Definitely NOT a good idea to allow use of pensions to fund anything else. Very short-sighted and we are very disappointed that the government even considers this step. The impact over a long time considerably reduces the eventual total pension amount from which to draw a monthly pension. It will be regarded as a glorified savings account. It will lead to more people losing their pension amount and becoming a burden on the State. Drop this stupid idea now.	Charles
2020-10-10 20:04:07	Western Cape		No I do not	Pension funds are there to use when one retires and doesn't have an income.Dont even consider this as there is no money left in this country to look after senior people.	Rosemary
2020-10-10 16:35:59	Western Cape		No I do not	Definitely NOT a good idea to allow use of pensions to fund anything else. 2020-10-09 22:19:33	Western Cape		No I do not	Leave the pension funds alone! The only reason for trying to lay claim to it is because the ANC Government has run out of looting sources. Their Greed has no Limits!	sylvana

	2020-10-09 19:21:41	Western Cape		No I do not	Pension funds are what they are; for your old age. As a pensioner who has never dug into my pension, because I couldn't and in fact allocated extra funds that were matched by the companies I worked for, my pension today is pretty borderline and has to be managed very carefully. I can see the day when it will not be enough and its not far off at the present. The real problem here is our rampant inflation, don't believe the economists, they're only there to manage the companies wage bill; in other words it will always be on the low side of reality. The real problem here is the real unofficial inflation that the majority of citizens have to deal with. Most of the products that the average person needs goes up by double figures whilst the economists work in low single digit figures as do your salary increases. In the end its the failure of our useless government to create jobs. Imagine a market where there are more jobs than there are skilled workers - who has the bargaining power now. If your boss doesn't respect you and pay you accordingly, you move on and leave him with the problem - why do you think mechanisation is always a step away or on the cards. In this type of environment you can scrap the communist unions who are adding to the misery (by supporting our corrupt government and gangster friends) but at the same time keeping the Union bosses in a (well paid) job. Starting to grant loans or guarantee such loans is just the thin edge of the wedge. Wait until government starts making loans with our pension funds as being the guarantee. Soon there will be absolutely nothing left after they have "stolen" everything i.e. you will now have nothing at all. Governments track record is for everyone to see, unless they are absolutely blind, brainwashed or died in the wool "yes" men. Most pro government persons think that its Christmas every day. Go forward with this at your own peril.	Richard

	2020-10-08 00:16:35	Western Cape		No I do not	This is just another excuse for further funds to be looted. The ANC has been wanting to use pension funds to pay for their elaborate schemes - they come up with all their wonderful ideas but never stop to think where the money is going to come from. I have no doubt that there will be fraud from the members' pension funds and no accountability by government to pursue the looters. I do not support this proposed legislation.	Anthea

	2020-10-05 14:18:53	Western Cape		No I do not	Absolutely no. The majority of pensioners of this country struggle to make ends meet and the Government has proved that it is not a good custodian of funds. This risk is to high to entertain.	Susan

	2020-10-02 10:39:01	Western Cape		No I do not	One's pension fund should be kept secure and free from use by the pension fund owner. A pension fund is not a bank and should not be treated as such. It is designed to create security in our older age. People should be able to manage their money without borrowing from their future. I fear that this is very dangerous ground.	Sarah

	2020-09-26 10:26:21	Western Cape		No I do not	My pension is exactly that... My pension. And should be utilized by myself for my own benefit and family. I will only approve of my pension being utilized only if there is a benefit to myself the contributor, failing which, I see no reason why my pension should be involved in any government matters. I contributed towards it, so hands off my pension contributions. Get state guarantees by any other means except government pension funds. Enough with the corruption... Enough is enough peoples lives depend on those pensions	Tumiso

	2020-10-14 13:43:42	Western Cape		Yes I do	Times are tough for the majority of us and going forward we are still going to be faced with more financial difficulties especially after the lenders are said to have rejected 67% of their applications received during the second quarter of 2020. This has left many of us with zero options. I, therefore, support the bill because it seems to me that it's going to give members a much needed option to decide how best to navigate these financial difficulties. As a person who is on debt review with no salary increase this year I find myself in a very difficult position. Therefore, I could use the loan to pay off all my debts, eliminate the financial stress on my shoulders, and rebuild my credit score.	Zolisa
	2020-10-13 21:44:44	Western Cape		Yes I do	I am under debt review for the past 2 years, another 2 years to go and this is a bit stressful. I am 47 years old, my pension is not much so I might as well use it now to settle all my debt and to clear my name, increase my credit score in order to buy a property as an investment for my retirement. I hope this bill will be approved and can be used for this option as well.	Glenda
	2020-10-13 18:48:36	Western Cape		Yes I do	Its our money an we need it now not when we old or dead. It will help financially to pay school fees buy a small property or pay debts	Rukea

	2020-10-17 18:19:21	Gauteng		No I do not	Pensions should be left alone (by the individuals, the banks and the government) until retirement and not be risked for short term fixes. If people lose their pensions then at retirement they will have to rely on the state (which actually just means they will have nothing to retire on and go hungry or be a burden on other people). South Africa needs people to stop being dependent on the state an others.	Bronwyn

	2020-10-16 15:02:37	Gauteng		No I do not	The ANC government are utterly corrupt and in breach of their constitutional obligation to defend the constitution. Not one SOE is solvent and functional and the thugs forcing this bill into law should be jailed. In 26 years, the anc led government have proven themselves to be incompetent, liars and thieves. They have run out money due to corruption, incompetence and failed ideologies. This is their magic bullet fix to gain more avenues to continue looting because all other avenues have dried up.	Russell
	2020-10-15 09:39:30	Gauteng		No I do not	With a Already Corrupt ANC how the hell can any person trust that they are save or ther pension funds. The worker worked for it his whole life its not a corrupt goverments desision to play God with other peoples lives and lively hoods get ittttt!!!!!!!!!!!!	Angelique

	2020-10-13 08:13:02	Gauteng		No I do not	The Bill is detrimental to future sustainability especially at retirement. I have 1st hand experience of one vehicle manufacturer where employees used their provident fund as collateral. They were stripped naked when they left employment either through resignation or retirement. Totally unacceptable.	Mampuru

	2020-10-12 19:19:33	Gauteng		No I do not	I worked for 31yrs, paying my taxes, paid tax on my payout when I went on pension. I still pay tax on the very same money (interest earned on investment). Millions of the fund had been invested in dubious companies etc. Enough is simply enough. Leave what is left alone. Get the money back from the looters .	Susara

	2020-10-11 12:36:06	Gauteng		No I do not	Pension funds are there to use when one retires and doesn't have an income. Definitely NOT a good idea to allow use of pensions to fund anything else. This could eventually devalue the fund and open doors to corruption.	Margaret

	2020-10-10 07:09:11	Gauteng		No I do not	Definitely no...your pension fund is there for your old age...the current situation does not mean you should forget about your future situation. This greedy government has no money left to assist you now...if you think they will be able to assist you when you old and squandered all your pension money then you shortsighted and a fool.	Chanelle

	2020-10-09 06:07:05	Gauteng		No I do not	Pension should be left for when you retire, not to pay bills that you default on. We already have far too many people depending on our taxes to survive. 	2020-10-07 21:36:32	Gauteng		No I do not	If government employees going to do this a lot of people are going to be dependent on the government for social grants. Its seems like a good idea now but there is a big black hole that devours your money once it's in your pocket!!!!	Jan
	2020-10-07 16:23:31	Gauteng		No I do not	The state is already heavily burdened by a significant proportion of the population heavily in debt and unable to support themselves through retirement, adding further pressure on the tax payer. Allowing further access to debt through pension guarantees adds to this downward spiral and is simply irresponsible.	John

	2020-10-07 06:50:58	Gauteng		No I do not	A pension must be regarded as a very special financial tool, with ONE purpose, irrespective, and that us to provide some security after retirement and NOT to become a burden on the State or anyone else. If you need a loan to buy a house, and you can't obtain a bond your financial position is poor. You will not be able to maintain a property without sufficient income, the house will be repossessed, you will have lost a good portion of your pension and you will be a burden on someone eventually. Remember, you can't always have everything you want. LEAVE THE PENSION ALONE!!	Terry
	2020-10-06 09:19:23	Gauteng		No I do not	This morally wrong, if a person goes through a hard time, they will loose everything including their pension. What will they do when they are too old to work and the banks have taken their pension?	Ge-org
	2020-10-05 17:08:44	Gauteng		No I do not	To many people will use up their pension fund before they retire. The poor will not benefit from this bill.	Willem
	2020-10-05 15:56:32	Gauteng		No I do not	When financially illiterate people and people living on the breadline can use their retirement funds as security for something they can't afford, they either find ways to get onto more Income Tax funded schemes and/or default on payments losing their pensions and homes.	Charles
	2020-10-04 22:22:39	Gauteng		No I do not	A pension fund is the only " savings" most people will have when retiring. Please do not change it. Easy access will place your lifes work in jeopardy, at the time you need it most. You are so vulnerable that time and you will need money for another 20 or 30 years to live on. So please don't.	Jackie

	2020-10-01 02:19:17	Gauteng		No I do not	Pension funds should not be able to be used as loan backers for loans which are not fixed assets. At least with a fixed asset such as a home loan, some costs could be recovered from a forfeiture. By allowing other loans, we could land in a situation where many people lose their pensions in the long run, which will increase state dependency.	Stephan

	2020-09-29 13:50:46	Gauteng		No I do not	The reason for lack of infrastructure is this country is a direct result of corruption aided and abetted by the ruling party which has had a disastrous effect on the government's ability to use its taxes and other income appropriately and wisely for the benefit of its citizens. This bill spells further disaster. If people access their funds before retirement there will be no money to fund them once they stop work. We do not need a great population relying on government handouts. There is already a huge burden on taxpayers. We need sound fiscal policies with good governance and a concerted effort to stamp out bribery and corruption.	Rene

	2020-09-27 18:12:14	Gauteng		No I do not	Pension gets taxed for pensioners, which is disgraceful. They already paid taxes whilst working and contributing to our economy. They are already suffering. To now be able to borrow against one's pension before retiring is extremely unwise.	Priscilla
	2020-09-27 12:10:27	Gauteng		No I do not	It literally takes a lifetime of hard work and dedication to save for a pension. Government's constant interference with private matters only shows their willingness to destroy our life's hard earned savings. Hands off. Better we cash out before you destroy this.	Julian
	2020-09-26 19:16:59	Gauteng		No I do not	I have worked hard and paid into my pension fund for years. What right does the government have to take it and use it for "themselves". They won't support me when I am on pension.	Debbie

	2020-09-25 07:57:14	Gauteng		No I do not	Giving access to pension funds us simply a thinly disguised attempt by the anc to loot even further . 	2020-09-25 00:57:28	Gauteng		No I do not	This is organized and legal theft of peoples hard earned retirement savings. It's a disgrace and should not be allowed ever. The government are grasping at straws and more funds to misappropriate.	Mandy

	2020-10-17 14:25:55	Gauteng		Yes I do	I think this bill will allow workers to access the money from their pension fund than to borrow from the bank the interest will be lower than the one in the bank	Muzikabani
	2020-10-15 07:12:07	Gauteng		Yes I do	We are drowning in loans and our kids don't have houses to live in, give me a portion of my money so that when I retire I don't have to take all that money to buy a home. If I do it now take a loan off my pension fund I will have enough time to pay back my money. The other option is to resign to get access to that. A lot of my colleagues have done that just to get out of debt. I think COVID-19 was unexpected so let's approach this situation as unexpectedly as it came and help us to help ourselves with our money.	Kelebogile

	2020-09-27 17:30:11	Gauteng		Yes I do	Pensioners should be entitled to make their own decisions about their Pensions. Even with Retirement Annuities. Instead of using Banks and Loan sharks when extra funds are required and paying huge interest fee's on top of that, why not make funds that are already OWNED by the Pension Holders available for this need. Pay any taxes that may accrue and give each individual their own person choice. The money would be more secure in the Pension fund than in a home which could be expropriated without Compensation or could even have lost more value now that it was originally valued at when surety was provided. It's a safer loan for everyone concerned.	Romano

	2020-10-14 09:43:06	KwaZulu- Natal		Yes I do	This loan will help everyone alot. The pension will not be affected as pension holders will be paying back the loan. This loan will help me to pay off my debt. People now have been put into such a situation whereby they are left with practically no salary after paying off debt and buying food. Staple food like rice is gone so expensive. Never ever did we have to pay R170 for a bag of rice This loan will give people a chance to survive a little because we all all drowning at the moments. If people can get a chance to pay off their debt especially loans and have to only pay back this pension loan, it's will ease people burden. People are stressed with everything at the moment. Yes we all like to save as much as possible but people can't afford to live for today. Why can't their pension money help them.If a person cannot survive now it really does not make sense to keep the money till retirement when people don't have money to buy food now and survive. They might not even survive to see retirement the way the economy is going. We bought a vehicle in December and in March the county went on LOCKDOWN. We had jobs that we could go to and we only got a portion of our salary from Ters. We really battled as the price of food went up so high and is still rising. We were promised our increase in March but as soon as the president announced the LOCKDOWN our company never give it to us. So we have to try to survive the best we can. Giving people this opportunity to take 75% as a loan will help me. And I know for sure alot of people. All the financial heads keep saying save for retirement, save for retirement but are they seeing that people cannot afford to live for today and to help the people out. They must not only think of it in one way but also from the people point. Saving is lovely and we all would love to do it but please help us to get back on our feet from this disaster. I got credit life policy with Fnd but Fnb instead of changing the credit life policy rules to accommodate loss of income never do that but gave people relief by offering the another loan. Now people have to pay more. How does one survive . Please help us to help ourself. Give the go head for the 75% pension holder loan... Please...	Evonn
	2020-10-13 08:54:10	KwaZulu- Natal		Yes I do	I think it fair enough for citizens to have access on such funds which have been mismanaged for decades. Even for those who are in debt, it could also assist tgem to clear their credit records. Some of our fam members have lost jobs and for those who are still working but with a bad credit it means more financial strain for them because of being rejected. It should be by choice and people over 50 years should not be allowed because they are nearing retirement and have no much time to recover the loan but for those who still have many years to work can be allowe. One other aspect that needs to be looked at is the issue of LIFE POLICIES. A lot of people have lost jobs meaning they could no longer pay for their policies resulting into relapse/ closed yet they have been paying for more than a year. Such need to taken into account and at least 70% of their premiums should be payed back to the holders. Thank you	Ayanda

	2020-09-24 14:11:10	KwaZulu- Natal		No I do not	The moment that there is access to the pension money and loans given the chances of the individual renegeing on the loan payments and the pension fund having to pay out will have dire consequences for the pension fund. The viability of the fund is dependent on the whole invested amount paid in by members. The depletion of the fund in ways other than normal pension will mean that the people on pension will be affected as well as those who are contributing but not taking loan guarantees and possibly defaulting on payments. In the short term the pension fund will die. Experience in HR has shown that members want to take loans for a bond payment as they are in default, university fees, a new car, a holiday or similar. In some cases individuals will resign or move jobs to get this money not understanding the effects and the end result of a much diminished pension. At the time of going on pension there will be much unhappiness due to the reduced or non-existent pension. The DA need to have an economist look at this and get clear thinking. It has a good sound to it but has not been worked through in a long term logical manner.	Lynne

	2020-09-27 02:52:09	KwaZulu- Natal		Not fully	This could be disastrous if the pension fund member for some reason can't repay the loan. Also will the loan only be available to the pension fund member and NO-ONE else, that government will not have access to the pension fund? Great caution should be exercised before using this option, as we all know how little our pensions are worth at retirement age. Also what would be the point if competitive interest would be charged, it would only benefit you if the interest was much less than the banks.	Susanne

	2020-10-12 17:27:28	Eastern Cape		Not fully	I would suggest that fund holders be given a once off opportunity to access their funds without having to pay back the money. At least 10%. Why must they borrow money when they have. Not everybody live long after retirement to enjoy their savings. If they have a need let them at least have the option to use a portion of the savings than to worry about repayments on loans. It is not easy to go to the bank for a loan knowing very well that you are going to pay 3 times the amount that you borrowed.	Drucilla

	2020-10-09 14:19:20	Eastern Cape		No I do not	Taking loans secured against a pension fund will leave the worker poorer as a pensioner. Pensions do not keep up with inflation and what seems to be an adequate provision for retirement becomes more and more inadequate as the years beyond 65 pass. If you have to pay back a loan when you retire you will struggle even more to make ends meet for the remainder of your life!	Sally
	2020-10-06 05:39:21	Eastern Cape		No I do not	Some people will default on loans and lose their pensions. Even now only about 5% of persons retiring have adequate pension funds.	Andrew

	2020-10-04 12:22:39	Eastern Cape		No I do not	Pension funds should be for a pension when you retire. There are far too many people on government grants. They should have made provision for their own pension.	Marie

	2020-10-02 10:11:35	Eastern Cape		No I do not	Pensions are there for your retirement. If you make any kind of draw from your pension it will shrink the amount you get when you retire. Do not touch your pension.	Linda

	2020-09-30 09:52:13	Eastern Cape		No I do not	No, no, no this is not acceptable. A person who has contributed to a pension fund for years has a measure of independence. If you allow people to access loans they cannot service and will not be able to service as they have no income, will become dependent on the state. The South African government cannot afford to keep on providing grants to more and more people - they do not have the resources.	Charlette
	2020-09-30 06:22:40	Eastern Cape		No I do not	Pension fund savings are for retirement. Generally people leave their retirement savings plan till to late, or cash in the portion they can when they change jobs. Should not be able to hold your pension to ransom as qarentee for a bond. Your pension should never be at risk and be lost if you default on the bond payments and stand the risk of loosing part of your pension. Bad idea this.	Lea

	2020-09-30 21:30:56	Free State		No I do not	Pension fund savings should not be a guarantee for a loan. Saving for your old age should never cover for current expenditures as it will only make you depending on the state in future, which will be detrimental to your own living and financial dependency on the state when you don't want it.	Johan
	2020-09-26 07:21:53	Free State		No I do not	It will put pensions at risk. Pension funds should never be available as security against a bank loan.
